Biography

Lilli was born in a family of mages. Her mother was an archmage at a local mage's college, while her father was a researcher at a magitech institution. Lilli began studying magic at an extremely young age, as her parents were grooming her as a mage. On account of her parent's high status, she was born with a metaphorical silver spoon in her mouth. However, her parents practiced necromancy and forbidden life magic in secret, which ultimately led to their disgrace and banishment from the local magical community.

When her parents practice of illegal magic was uncovered, Lilli was seven years old and was taken from her parents by another family of mages. Although her training was never interrupted, the event was greatly traumatic for her and she never developed a close relationship with her new parents. She spent as much time away from them as possible, often staying nights at the local mage's academy and filling the time in by studying and practicing magic to the point of obsession.

When she graduated and turned eighteen, Lilli left home and set out on her own...

Personality

On account of her upbringing with adopted parents, Lilli developed into a conscientious, quiet, and submissive woman. However, she enjoys attracting attention, even the kind that many would consider to be of the negative kind. To illustrate, Lilli easily attaches to those who show her attention or affection. As such, she can become dangerously dependent on people, to the point of sycophancy.

She intends to reach a level of proficiency in it, to the point where she can raise the dead and restore a soul back to its bodily host.
