Personality

Abilities/Skills

- Electricity and Ion Manipulation (Electrokinesis): Marie has the ability to generate and direct the flow of electrons, which allows her to adjust resistivity, current, and voltage through a given conductor as well as control magnetic fields. Manipulating ions allows her to use air as a conductor, and make various ranged attacks. This ability consumes a lot of energy, requiring Marie to eat almost twice that much a normal person needs. This ability also tends to respond more to stress and anger, which causes electrical sparks to jump from her body at times. Her maximum output at the beginning is 0.02 amps and 5,000 volts, or 100 Watts, the base metabolic rate of the human body.
- Engineering: To take better advantage of her ability, Marie has studied extensively on the properties of electricity and electromagnetic fields. This has had the side effect of her learning principles of engineering and as a result she can perform repair on most technical things given time.
