Biography

Mikodimus has ties to the Order Of Terra thanks to his father. One would think being raised in a knightly household would mean a good life but that is far from the truth. Growing up Miko was abused by his father and buddies. Said it would make him strong and be a proud knight of Terra. In truth all his father did was talk about the myths and legends of times past as if he was worth anything. As he grew older he had doubts his old man was ever a knight and just used this to get what he wanted from people.

It was not long after turning 16 that Miko decided to walk a new path. As was usual his father was beating his mom during one of his drunken benders. Something in Miko snapped and he killed his father. He had been looking at a mechanical pencil and wished nothing more than to stab his father through the eye with it. His body was later found having been stabbed through the eye. This was the first time his powers manifested themselves.

After this indecent he was taken to a hospital for reeducation they called it. In truth it was nothing more than a torture lab designed to force kids with issues to reform. He spent the next 4 years in this place and got exceedingly good at being much like his father. He was feared and had no issue beating someone to within an inch of life. His daily shock therapy and isolation started to turn into a game of how long he could endure. As he neared his 21st birthday word got to him that his mother was dying. Dead set on seeing her before she passed he walked right out the front door of the hospital. It was never discovered how the place was destroyed and all records on Miko had been purged from the systems.

As he stayed by her side till her last days he had come to reflect on all the suffering he had been a part of. The last advice given to him by her was "Be the knight your father never was. Depend on yourself and abilities to get you through the day. Bring justice to those who need it and punish those who deserve it." To this day he still carries the locket which houses her picture.

From that day forward Miko decided to walk a better path in life. He signed up to be a bounty hunter and for the next 5 years honed his skills at capturing every mark given to him. While the anger was still within him he did his best to contain that evil. Only to use it when in the most dire of situations.
