

OSC-01

OSC-01 is a PC/NPC played by Pancakei within the Arcadia Complex.

Oakland Heavy Industries Overseer Custom 01

Gender	"Female"
Model:	OAKHI Overseer (Custom)
Age:	???
Faction:	Servants Eternal
Occupation:	Right Guard
Rank:	Agent

Physical Appearance

OSC-01 is an Oakland Heavy Industries Overseer, heavily customized and armored. Their figure stands at a median between 5' and 6', with their ambiguous height being in part due to their disembodied head. They vaguely resemble a well-toned female wearing a suit of armor, with heavier concentrations of White Arcandum around the breastplate, shoulders, hips, forearms, and knees. The rest of their figure is composed of lighter Black Arcandum, durable metal alloy, and a small covering of flexible black pseudo-muscle. Their robotic feet are covered in another form of fake muscle, with traction control built into their pads.

Their head is of a triangular shape, and is one of the heaviest armored parts on their personnel. From behind, one can see the circular exhaust vent for their main power source- a heavy duty but compromised generator. While seemingly open, this port is still well secured and armored. Discreet air vents are built into the back of their shoulders, which can be opened and closed as necessary and can even be used to create the sound like that of an organ.

OSC-01 can take many different forms depending on the situation, but is often idly seen in a “Harpy Formation”, with their dislocated and particularly sharp metal feathers draped in front of them from the forearm. The rounded ends of their wing joint may split way to reveal a more human-looking forearm complete with five flexible digits on each hand.

Biography

Not much is known about OSC-01 at the moment. She was found and reactivated in a small sanctum hidden away in the ancient forests of Loinia by the Downrider Expedition.

From what personal information they have spared, OSC-01 was designed and built to suit a new wave of information processing and artificial intelligence by the hands of Oakland Heavy Industries, a now defunct manufacturer whose whereabouts are limited to the few remaining units still functioning. By design, OSC-01 was made with the intent to protect a charge- with a mix of grace and efficiency.

Personality

OSC-01 is seemingly intelligent and reserved, choosing to keep their true colors at bay until they have grown to know and trust a person. They can be rather sassy when asked of too much, flying in the face of the typical Overseer AI.

Deep underneath the protective layer of reservation and impudence lies something more- a hidden mix of aspiration, rage, and compassion.

Items

- One Incipian Codex, light green.
- One long lockbox, unopened and well-protected.
- One silk and fabric coat, open-armed. White, dull green, and mint.
- One Nepherian wedding crown, white. Not theirs.
