

The Grand Republic Of Avisten

The Grand Republic of Avisten was an ancient Arcadian civilization that historically ruled with a bloody, iron fist. Hailing from another dimension, their defense was the utmost priority, believing that other races were inferior and unenlightened. It has since been torn down and used as a foundation for New Incipere.

History

The Grand Republic of Avisten was founded in roughly AC 3200, but the original colony of Arcadia that inhabited the land it was founded on dated back to nearly AC 2900. The nation created out of spite against the Nepharians, the ancient enemies of Arcadia. Nestled in the densely forested mountains of northern Planet Arcadia, the capital city of Avisten grew from a simple castle into a grand walled supercity as time showed no signs of stopping the Republic's growth.

The Republic had a firm belief that other species were either inferior or dangerous and required vigilance as they began to advance their technology. Sleeper cells and other forms of undercover operations inside human colonies were common. The Republic went as far as to send fire teams to murder other individuals in cold blood to preserve their secrets and keep species such as humans from coming too close to their home realm.
