| Union | Refers to the Arcandum Union, an independent “restoration committee” seen meddling around public and historical places. |

Arcadian Language

The Arcadian language is composed of syllables, each of which has been assigned a written symbol. These syllables are strung together to create written words, which are read fluently. Below are translations.

| Term | Meaning |
|------------|--|
| Arcandum | The strongest alloy armor known to the Arcadians. Forged from a mix of metals and woven with hardened Echyllis to create a metal strong enough to mitigate even the harshest blows. |
| Aperthus | The ancient society built along the river Aper, which became the seeds of Arcadia over millennium. |
| ATES | Arcadia's paramilitary force, founded by Derelict Athes II and once overseen by the Defense Council. |
| Aves | An advanced division of ATES. Reserved for individuals of high strength, morale, leadership, and obedience. |
| Avisten | The capital city of Arcadia. A multilayered melting pot of concrete and steel, along the river Aper. |
| Council | Refers to the Republic that ruled over the Grand Republic of Avisten. The government was split up into councils that oversaw different aspects of life, including Defense, Diplomacy, Law, and Research. |
| Homelander | An Arcadian family or individual living within the direct nation of Arcadia, usually in a capital city. |
| Inget | ATES' lower ranking ground force. Enlistees are referred to as Ingetin . |

| Term | Meaning |
|------------------|--|
| Kerolyne | A dusty blue rock that serves as the basis for Arcadian ballistic munitions. Kerolyne-fueled bullets can punch holes in even the toughest armor. |
| Marked | Someone who is being targeted either for additional surveillance or death penalty. Usually used as slang by defectors and outlying Arcadians. |
| Neiph | A racial slur against Nepharians and denizens of Nephros. |
| Outlier | An Arcadian family or individual that is either a citizen living under jurisdiction seeded within another races society, or a defector that has rejected the Arcadian nation in exchange for another. The latter may be punishable by Marking. |
| Syllic | An individual of great disposition and expertise in the natural manipulation of Echyllis. Namesake of the Syllic Division in Arcadia's paramilitary forces. |
| Expression | Meaning |
| "Stalat!" | An exclamation of authority, ordering a cease of action. |

Nepherian Language

Unlike the Arcadian Language, the Nepherian Language is composed of written letters instead of syllables. Due to their slightly more welcoming demeanor, the Nepherian Language has adopted some traditional expressions from other races.

| Term | Meaning |
|------------------------------|---|
| Aperthus | The ancient society built along the river Aper, from which the ancestors of Nephros were exiled. |
| Ahgniz | The name of the long-deceased king of Nephros. Often used as an expression of pity, remorse, or anger. |
| Briar | Occupation, lifestyle. Briars are individuals who cultivate harsh landscapes, run deliveries, and hunt large game in exchange for goods and pay. |
| Bloodless | Insult against someone showing cowardice or poor conduct. |
| Nanxer | An individual of great disposition and expertise in the natural manipulation of Echyllis. Comparable to a Syllic, but usually stronger. |
| Slinger | Slang for an addict. |
| Thin-blooded | An individual of mixed and diluted heritage, usually part Arcadian or part Nepherian mixed with another race. |
| Vofel | Refers to the Vofel Province of Nephros, a lush mountainous region that became home to the New Order of Nephros. Evolved from a small village to a renaissance of engineering and civility. |
| Expression | Meaning |
| "By Ahgniz." | An vain expression of disbelief, pity, or anger. Compare "Oh my God." |
| "The blazing depths." | An article used in an expression of surprise or anger. Refers to the broiling hot Province of Esthyx. Compare "What the hell." |
